

GDPR Policy

GDPR Policy Welcome to GiiMe, a prop trading platform that offers a competitive environment for traders through funding challenges. We highly value your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal data.

This GDPR Policy outlines how we handle your information in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and other applicable data protection laws. By using GiiMe, you acknowledge and consent to the practices described in this policy.

Data Controller

The data controller for the personal data collected through GiiMe is available at GiiMe LTD, with Registration Number HE 462247, having its registered address at Georgiou Christoforou, 8, 1st floor Strovolos, 2012, Nicosia, Cyprus.

Data We Collect

Account Information

When you create an account, we collect your name, email address, and other information necessary for account setup.

GiiMe is owned and managed by GiiMe LTD, a company duly registered under the Cyprus Company Law with Registration Number HE 462247.

The GiiMe-Copyright © 2024 stands as a registered trademark owned by GiiMe Ltd. Clients are provided with demo accounts that contain simulated funds for trading activities. Please note that all client trading operations are conducted in a simulated environment, maintained by GiiMe Ltd, located at registered address at Georgiou Christoforou, 8, 1st floor Strovolos, 2012, Nicosia, Cyprus. GiiMe is committed to the progression and education of traders through an advanced simulation platform for assessing trading skills. Participants undergo rigorous challenge phases aimed at recognizing and fostering trading expertise.

Payment Details:

If you participate in funding challenges, we collect payment details, such as credit card information or other payment method details, to process transactions securely.

Usage Data:

We collect information about your interactions with GiiMe, including trading statistics, preferences, device information, and user behavior. This helps us improve our services and enhance your trading experience.

Legal Basis for Data Processing

Contractual Necessity:

The processing of your personal data is necessary for the performance of the contract between you and GiiMe. This includes providing access to our services, processing payments, and delivering the requested features.

Consent:

By accepting this GDPR Policy and using GiiMe, you provide us with explicit consent to process your personal data for the purposes outlined in this policy.

Data Usage and Disclosure

Internal Use:

GiiMe is owned and managed by GiiMe LTD, a company duly registered under the Cyprus Company Law with Registration Number HE 462247.

We use your personal data to deliver our services, personalize your experience, and provide customer support. This includes analyzing usage patterns, improving our platform, and developing new features.

Service Providers:

We may engage trusted third-party service providers to assist us in delivering our services. These providers have access to your personal data solely for the purpose of performing tasks on our behalf and are obligated to protect your data.

Legal Compliance

We may disclose your personal data as required by law, regulation, or legal processes, or to respond to valid requests by public authorities.

Data Transfers

Your personal data may be transferred and processed in countries outside of your jurisdiction. We will ensure that any such transfers comply with applicable data protection laws and take appropriate safeguards to protect your data.

Data Retention

We retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this policy, unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law. Once data is no longer needed, we will securely delete or anonymize it.

Your Rights

You have the following rights regarding your personal data:

Access:

You can request a copy of the personal data we hold about you.

Rectification:

You can request corrections to any inaccurate or incomplete personal data we have about you.

Erasure:

You can request the deletion of your personal data under certain circumstances, such as when the data is no longer necessary for the purposes it was collected.

Restriction:

You can request the restriction of processing of your personal data in certain situations, such as when the accuracy of the data is contested.

Objection:

You can object to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes or based on legitimate interests, unless we have compelling legitimate grounds to continue processing.

Data Portability:

GiiMe is owned and managed by GiiMe LTD, a company duly registered under the Cyprus Company Law with Registration Number HE 462247.

You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format, and to transmit that data to another data controller where technically feasible.

Withdrawal of Consent:

If you have provided consent for the processing of your personal data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. This will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

Lodging a Complaint:

If you believe that your rights under the GDPR have been violated, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the appropriate supervisory authority in your jurisdiction.

Data Security

We implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect your personal data from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. We continuously review our security practices to ensure the utmost protection of your data. However, please be aware that no method of transmission over the internet or electronic storage is completely secure.

Updates to this GDPR Policy

We may update this GDPR Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or to comply with legal requirements. Any revisions will be posted on our website or within the GiiMe platform. We encourage you to review this policy periodically to stay informed of any updates.
